

Employee Group Insurance Benefit Handbook

General Information

The State Personnel Department Benefits Division is responsible for employee statewide benefit programs including health, dental, vision and life insurance. However, you should understand that the Benefits Division does not make any medical determinations related to your claims. All claims are handled through a third party administrator (TPA) or insurer. The contact information for the third party administrators and insurers can be found on the State Personnel Department's Benefits Division web site (<http://www.in.gov/spd/2337.htm>). Listed below is the contact information for the Benefits Division.

Employee Responsibilities

Read all the information carefully

It is your responsibility to become familiar with your benefit plans. It is also a good idea to know what services are covered. You should direct your benefit questions to the State Personnel Benefits Division or to the appropriate third party administrator or insurer. All plan summaries and descriptions are available on the Benefits Division web site (<http://www.in.gov/spd/2337.htm>).

Plan your decisions wisely

Compare all of your insurance options and determine which option will best suit the needs for you and your family.

Determine the amounts that will be deducted from your paycheck. After you have made your selections at the time of your employment/re-employment, changes can only be made during the annual Open Enrollment or if you experience a qualifying event.

Verify that your insurance deductions are correct

Enrolling in Self-Service Benefits through PeopleSoft® will provide you with a benefit confirmation statement showing a summary of your elections. Be sure to print and review your confirmation and make sure all your elections are correct. Review your first paycheck and make sure all your deductions are correct. If you notice any discrepancies, contact the State Personnel's Benefits Division. If there is a discrepancy in your benefit deductions, appropriate action will be taken to ensure that your deductions are correct.

Eligibility

Employee eligibility

All active, full-time employees and elected or appointed officials are eligible to participate. For the purpose of benefits eligibility, full-time employees are defined as active employees whose regular work schedule is at least 37½ hours per week. Part-time, intermittent and hourly (temporary) employees who work an average of thirty (30) or more hours per week over a 12-month review period would also be eligible for benefits. Part-time, intermittent and hourly (temporary) employees working less than thirty (30) or more hours per week over a 12-month review period are not eligible for insurance or related benefits.

Eligibility for life insurance

Upon your employment/re-employment, you are in your initial enrollment period for life insurance. During your initial enrollment period, you may elect any life insurance option offered for you and your dependents. Life insurance options include:

- Basic Life
- Supplemental Life (up to $200,000)
- Dependent Life

After the initial enrollment period, you may apply for coverage and/or increase coverage by submitting Evidence of Insurability for approval. Submitting Evidence of Insurability paperwork does not guarantee approval of life insurance coverage.

Dual coverage

Dual Coverage of the same individuals is not allowed under the state's health, dental and vision benefit plans. If you and your spouse are both employed by the State (or if your spouse is a retired state employee with their own state policy), both employees cannot carry family coverage. Married State employees have the following options:

- Both may carry single coverage
- Both may be covered by one family plan or
- One employee may carry family coverage and the other single, but the spouse with single coverage cannot be covered under the family plan.

In the case where two State employees share the same dependent, only one State employee may cover the dependent under health, dental and vision insurance. Dependents cannot have dual coverage.

Dual coverage is not permitted when a parent and eligible child both have coverage under state employment. The child may remain on their parent's policy or have his/her own coverage.

Another scenario occurs when an employee who has retired from one area of state employment begins active work for the state again. In this instance, you will have the choice to continue your retiree coverage and waive your active employee coverage, or vice versa. However, you will not be permitted to carry state retiree insurance and active state employee coverage simultaneously.

Dual coverage is only acceptable for dependent life coverage.

Eligible dependents

Dependents of eligible employees may be covered under the State's benefit plans. In order for dependents to be covered, the employee must be covered. Dependents are defined as:

Spouse: An individual to whom you are legally married. IC 31-11-8-5 provides: a marriage is void if the marriage is a common law marriage that was entered into after Jan. 1, 1958. Employees are not allowed to claim dependents based on common law marriages. An ex-spouse is not eligible for coverage even if court ordered.

Children: Natural-, step-, foster, or legally adopted children; children who reside in the employee's home for whom the employee or spouse has been appointed legal guardian or awarded legal custody by a court, until the end of the month in which they turn 26.

Age limitation: Dependent children are eligible for coverage until the end of the month in which they turn 26.

If the dependent child is both incapable of self-sustaining employment by reason of mental or physical disability and is chiefly dependent upon the employee for support and maintenance prior to age 19, the dependent child's coverage shall continue if satisfactory evidence of such disability and dependency is received within 120 days after the maximum age is attained. Coverage for the dependent will continue until the employee discontinues his coverage or the disability no longer exists.

A dependent child of the employee who attained age 19 while covered under another health care policy and met the disability criteria specified above, is an eligible dependent for enrollment so long as no break in coverage longer than 63 days has occurred immediately prior to enrollment. Proof of disability prior to age 19 and proof of prior coverage will be required. The plan requires annual documentation from a physician after the child's attainment of the limiting age.

Examples of persons NOT eligible for coverage as a dependent

- Ex-spouse
- Live-in boyfriends or girlfriends
- Parents or parents-in-law

- Grandchildren (unless employee is the court-appointed legal guardian or custody)
- Adults under guardianship of employee
- Dependents older than the end of the month in which they turned 26 that are not disabled
- Any other members of your household who do not meet the definition of an eligible dependent

Penalty for dishonesty

Falsifying information/documentation in order to obtain/continue insurance coverage is considered a dishonest act and could lead to discipline and criminal prosecution. Inadvertent or negligent failures to update or correct information related to eligibility of the employee or listed dependents are also subject to penalty. You are responsible for updating dependent information within 30 calendar days of the occurrence of any event affecting eligibility, for example, when a divorce severs a marital relationship or if a dependent gets married. The State of Indiana will impose a financial penalty, including, but not limited to, repayment of all insurance premiums the State made on behalf of the employee and/or dependent, as well as any claims paid by the insurance companies. Disciplinary action up to and including dismissal may also be imposed if appropriate.

Enrollment

Enrolling at hire

For employees on “A” or “B” payroll, health care coverage begins four days after your first payroll deduction. For employees in a direct bill agency, coverage begins the first day of the month following your date of hire. A direct bill agency is an agency that is not paid by the Auditor of State. In accordance with the State’s contracts with the carriers, elections must be made and submitted no later than the Monday following the pay period in which you were hired. If you are an employee of a direct bill agency, your elections must be submitted no later than the Monday following the “A” Payroll pay period in which you were hired. If your elections are not submitted by the deadline, your next opportunity to enroll will be during the annual open enrollment period. Different rules apply to elected officials. Elected officials and legislators must enroll by January 31 of the year following their election/re-election.

Enrolling/making changes during open enrollment

Open enrollment occurs every year and is usually held around November. During open enrollment, you are given the opportunity to make changes to your current elections, add or drop dependents and enroll in coverage. All changes made during open enrollment become effective on January 1 of the following year.

To make changes during the open enrollment period, you must access PeopleSoft® and complete the open enrollment process within the designated time frame. Once the deadline has passed, you will not be able to make changes to your benefits until the next open enrollment unless you have a qualifying event, sometimes referred to as a family status change or life event.

Enrolling/making changes due to a qualifying event

If you have a family status change, you must report it to the Benefits Hotline within 30 calendar days of the qualifying event. Documentation to support your family status change must also be submitted within 30 days of your notification to the Benefits Division. It is important to note that a qualifying event will not allow you to change the plan that you are currently enrolled in but will allow you to change your level of coverage.

A qualifying event may include, but is not limited to, the following:

- Change in legal marital status – Marriage, divorce, legal separation, annulment or death of a spouse
- Change in number of dependents – birth, death, adoption, placement for adoption, award of legal guardianship or custody
- Change in employment status of the employee's spouse or employee's dependent – switching from part-time to full-time employment status or from full-time to part-time, termination or commencement of employment, a strike or lockout, commencement of or return from an unpaid leave of absence which results in employee/dependent becoming ineligible for coverage
- Dependent satisfies or ceases to satisfy eligibility requirements – dependent reaches limiting age

Effective date of change

The effective date of the change is based on the type of qualifying life event and your previous health coverage at the time of the event. Depending on your specific situation the coverage would change on the date of the event, four days after your first deduction, or 18 days after your last deduction. For employees in a direct bill agency, your coverage will be effective the first day of the month following the qualifying event or the date of the event, in specific situations. If you have specific questions regarding qualifying event contact the State Personnel Benefits division.

Federal IRS Irrevocability Rule - Limitations on enrolling/making changes - Penalties

Employee payroll deductions for insurance premiums receive tax-exempt status under Section 125 of the Internal Revenue Code. Plans with tax exempt employee contributions are prohibited from allowing changes in coverage: (1) except during one annual enrollment period; or (2) when the employee experiences a qualifying event. These limitations on enrollment and changes are strictly enforced because the State could lose its special tax treatment for failure to strictly enforce these limitations and individual employees may be subject to IRS audit which could result in payment of additional taxes and/or other penalties.

This irrevocability rule applies to both increases and decreases in coverage, such as adding or dropping dependents from the health coverage or increasing or decreasing employee life insurance coverage. If you have a qualifying event, and fail to make the relevant changes in your coverage within 30 calendar days, you are prohibited from making those changes until the next annual open enrollment period. Consequences of that failure include loss of coverage for otherwise eligible dependents that were not added within the time limit.

You must contact State Personnel Benefits to remove dependents who no longer meet eligibility previously mentioned (Ex-spouse, lost guardianship on ward, ect). Even outside of 30 calendar days, these life changing events must still be reported to remove ineligible dependents from your coverage. Failure to remove ineligible dependents within the time limit can lead to penalties including disciplinary action or prosecution.

Medicare

When you turn age 65, you become eligible to enroll in Medicare benefits. If you wish to enroll, you should contact your local Social Security office within one month of reaching age 65. However, you may also decide to delay enrollment in Medicare until your coverage under the state of Indiana group health plan terminates. Once you are no longer covered under the group health plan, you may enroll in Medicare without premium penalty. You will need to elect coverage within a seven month enrollment period beginning with the first day of the first month in which you are no longer enrolled in a group health plan.

Coordination of Benefits

Any benefits covered under both the States plan and Medicare will be paid pursuant to Medicare Secondary Payer legislation, regulations, and Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) guidelines, subject to federal court decisions. Federal law controls whenever there is a conflict among state law, Plan provisions, and federal law.

Health Savings Account

According to IRS regulations, an individual who is enrolled in Medicare (Part A or B) is not eligible to make or receive contributions into a Health Savings Account (HSA). There are tax consequences to the individual and the employer, if the employer is also contributing to an HSA for the employee. If you enroll in Medicare and are receiving HSA contributions, you must immediately contact the State Personnel Benefits to stop the contributions.

If you elect to receive Social Security Benefits at age 62 or older, you are automatically enrolled in Medicare Part A upon turning 65. If you wish to participate in the HSA, enrollment in Social Security retirement benefits and Medicare should be declined. Please note that there could be potential consequences if you choose to decline enrollment once you have started receiving benefits. Additionally, if Medicare is not taken when you first qualify, when applying for Social Security Benefits, Medicare Part A may backdate up to 6 months.

Although, once Medicare is elected, you can no longer make contributions into your HSA, the money that has accumulated in that HSA from past years remain yours to spend, tax-free, on eligible expenses, including Medicare co-payments or deductibles, vision expenses and dental expenses. Account holders over the age of 65 also have the option to withdraw the money for any purpose and pay only the income tax without penalty.

Eligibility is dependent on the policy holder. Contributions can be made into the HSA if a spouse is covered by Medicare. Funds in this account can be used to pay for eligible medical expenses for dependents (as defined by the federal regulations). If a spouse is on Medicare, he/she is not eligible to contribute to an HSA in his/her name, regardless of whether or not he/she is covered under the medical plan.

The same rules also apply if you receive Social Security disability benefits and are enrolled in Medicare.

Claims Process

In-network vs. out-of-network

In-network health care providers are those who have contracted with the third party administrator or insurer and agreed to accept a certain amount as payment in full for specific covered services.

Out-of-network health care providers have no contract with the third party administrator or insurer. They may charge more for specific services than what the in-network providers will accept. Most Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) plans pay a portion of out-of-network claims but not at the same amount as an in-network provider.

Plan year deductible

Before benefits are payable under your benefit plan, you must first satisfy the deductible for services. The deductible requirement applies to all services unless otherwise noted on the benefit summary of your specific plan. The plan year deductible also applies towards satisfying the out-of-pocket maximums. Once the deductible is met the coinsurance or co-payments begin.

Out-of-pocket maximums

The out-of-pocket maximum includes the deductible, co-payments and coinsurance you incur in a benefit period unless otherwise noted on the benefit summary of your specific plan. Once you and/or your family's out-of-pocket maximum is satisfied, no additional co-payments or coinsurance will be required for you and/or your family. This is true for the remainder of the benefit period, unless otherwise noted on the benefit summary of your specific plan.

Premium Payments

Premium payments for active employees are generally paid through payroll deductions with the employee paying a portion and the State paying the balance of the premium amount. This process is not available for employees in out-of-pay status, so a separate billing process applies. Employees are responsible for the entire amount of their assigned portion of premium, and in some instances are responsible for the entire amount of the premium. If a premium or a portion thereof that is your responsibility has not been fully paid, any underpayment must be paid upon request regardless of the time period for which the underpayment occurred.

Out-of-pay status

If you are in out-of-pay status, the insurance carriers will direct bill you at home for the premiums due. Premiums must be paid by the due date on the billing to ensure continuation of coverage. Failure to submit payment will result in termination of coverage retroactive to the last day of coverage for which full payment was received. If coverage is terminated for non-payment of premium, you will be responsible for any claims incurred as of the benefit termination date. Employees and their dependents that have lost coverage from non-payment of premiums are not eligible for continuation of coverage through COBRA.

COBRA

Under federal "COBRA" law, the state of Indiana is required to offer covered employees and covered family members the opportunity for a temporary extension of health coverage (called continuation coverage) at group rates when coverage under the health plan would otherwise end due to certain qualifying events. Each qualified beneficiary has independent COBRA election rights and will have 60 days to elect continuation coverage. The 60-day election timeframe is measured from the later of the date health plan coverage is lost due to the event or from the date of COBRA notification. If a qualified beneficiary does not elect continuation coverage within this election period, then rights to continue health insurance will end and they cease to be a qualified beneficiary. If a COBRA election is made within the 60-day election timeframe and all applicable premiums are paid, coverage will be reactivated back to the loss of coverage date and pending claims will be released for payment.

Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA)

Title II of the federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA), was designed to protect the confidentiality and security of health information and to improve efficiency in healthcare delivery. HIPAA standards protect the confidentiality of medical records and other personal health information by regulating the use, release and disclosure of private health information. The State contracts with health plan administrators and other carriers to provide services including, but not limited to, claims processing, utilization review, behavioral health services and prescription drug benefits.
